Death of the Royal Queen Jane

Printed and sold by W. COLLARD, Bridewell-Lane, and Hotwells.

Queen Jane was in labour for six weeks or more
Till the women grew tired & feign would give o'er O women, O women, good women if you be,
Go send for King Henry and bring him to me.

King Henry was sent for & he came with all speed
In a gown of green velvet hung down to his heels
O kind Henry, kind Henry, K. Henry if you be,
Go send for the surgeon and bring him to me.

The surgeon was sent for who came with all speed
In a gown of black velvet hung down to his heels
He gave her rich caudle & laid her asleep,
While her right side was open'd & the babe was set free.

This babe it was christen'd and put out to nurse,
Whilst the royal Queen Jane lays cold in the dust
So black was the mourning & white was the wans Yellow, yellow was the torches they had in their hands, play,
The bells they were muffled and so mournful did
Whilst the royal Queen Jane lay cold in the clay,

Six knights and six lords bore her to the ground,
Six dukes follow'd after in black mourning gowns
The flower of Old England was laid in cold clay,
Whilst the royal King Henry came weeping away
